

BRIGHTON PATHWAYS PRESENTS:

CREATING

SACRED SPACES

With Tom Johnston of Colors and Colors

Saturday

March 10, 2012

10:00 a.m. — noon

Have you ever noticed when entering a room that there is something different, but you can't put your finger on just what it is you are feeling or sensing? This sense of presence is what is created when you claim your space, your home or just a room as Sacred for you and those you invite in. Come discover how simple it is to allow the space you inhabit to support your growth spiritually, emotionally, physically and mentally. This is a hands on class where we will be Clearing the energy from the class room and showing you how you can create this same sense of presence in your own home.

Tom Johnston is an Energy Healer and Clears Spaces with over 12 years experience. He has helped many to trust their own intuition while nurturing inner growth. Tom currently practices Matrix Energetics® at Brighton Pathways and has incorporated these same principles in his residential and commercial painting practice called Colors and Colors.
